Origins of Aprille's Passion

Aprille Trupiano is expertly trained in developing leaders. She has spent the last seven years coaching and growing success skills in individuals, Entrepreneurs, Managers and CEO's. Currently, she leads workshops, facilitates group presentations, leads conference breakout sessions, speaks to organizations and maintains a private coaching practice. Aprille is a published author working on her second book.

A lifetime of misaligned priorities based on her sense of "obligation" left Aprille perpetually stranded on "Someday Isle". After distinguishing that the passions that were burning in her were equally as important as supporting all the other people she was devoted to in life, Aprille got truly committed to being the natural Leader she was born into this world to be. She did so in order to best serve those she was dedicated to and so many more. Aprille got laser clear on the areas of life where she was resigned, hopeless and running from the fear of regret. By re-aligning her priorities and following her heart, she became free of the constraints that held her own leadership in the world at bay. Now she wants to show YOU how to do the same!

Aprille's ability to break through what holds you back will uncover obstacles you can't see yet. Her proven methods will catapult you to the miraculous in your life, where all your purest desires, your most intense passions are reborn. You will become fully engaged in living every aspect of your life joyfully, effectively, productively.

Being a leader is an act of service...service to yourself, to your family, to your communities—to the world. Not to live your most glorious life is to blatantly ignore the purpose for which you were born.
